Company Profile

Not verified by Premier Business Advisors

FO3994

ACME Manufacturing company

The company is both a machine shop and a distributor of metals to the machine shop and job shop industry. It is uniquely located in Sacramento County in northern California. The metals and job shop industry is a very competitive and the location is able to take advantage of lower labor and rental rates in the Sacramento valley to service clients from the San Francisco bay area to Reno, Nevada. The company's success and growth rate can be attributed to two factors, geography and speed of service. It is in the heart of agricultural country where industry is largely agrarian. Larger suppliers of metals and machined components tend to be in more urban areas such as 50 miles southwest in the San Francisco bay area. This means that this company can service its local clients quickly and effectively. An order placed with this distributor will be filled and delivered by their trucks in just one or two days. Non local competitors must consolidate smaller orders into larger ones in order to make deliveries cost effective. For machine shops who rely on metals for their production, quick delivery is very important. In addition this company stocks many of the most common material items for their customers, making service and availability key components of their success.

Notes: The financial tables presented above were taken from supplied documents and were not verified. Tax forms and P&Ls contain limited information: lines set to zero or left blank may actually contain expenses noted elsewhere in the financials for this company. Single owner compensation, fair market value is used for EBIT and EBITDA calculations and is an estimate used to define these financial figures and differentiate them from sellers discretionary earnings (SDE). The single owner compensation given has no relation to actual owners salary taken or the ability of the company to supply that salary to the owner. SDE = EBITDA plus owners compensation (fair market rate).
